

Confronting Racial Injustice

TWO-PART SERIES

THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 2022
6:00-7:00 PM

Confronting Economic Injustice: The Story of Parcel C

Boston's Chinatown has long been the physical, economic and cultural center for Chinese immigrants. Chinatown has also long fought for community control of affordable housing and economic justice. Join us for a conversation about the story of Parcel C, Chinatown's success in fighting against institutional expansion and reclaiming this parcel for community use.

SPEAKERS

MICHAEL LIU, Author, Forever Struggle: Activism, Identity and Survival in Boston's Chinatown

DAVID MOY, Program Officer, Hyams Foundation

LYDIA LOWE, Director, Chinatown Community Land Trust

CAROLYN CHOU, Executive Director, Asian American Resource Workshop

MODERATOR

MARGARET WOO, Professor of Law, Northeastern University School of Law

THURSDAY, MAY 26, 2022
6:00-7:00 PM

Confronting Racial Injustice: Rising Asian American Voices

Anti-Asian violence is not new. Join us for a conversation about the history of racial violence against Asian Americans, and the recent rise of Asian American voices.

SPEAKERS

PAUL LEE, Retired Partner, Goodwin Procter

PHIL TAJITSU NASH, Board Member, Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund

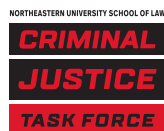

THE HONORABLE TRAM NGUYEN '13, Massachusetts State Representative, 18th Essex District

Pre-recorded Remarks by BOSTON MAYOR MICHELLE WU

MODERATOR

THE HONORABLE CATHERINE HAM, Associate Justice, Massachusetts Superior Court

Massachusetts
Historical Society
Founded 1791

N Northeastern University
School of Law

REGISTER
NOW!

Developed by the Northeastern University School of Law Criminal Justice Task Force, Confronting Racial Injustice is a free, two-part series hosted by the Massachusetts Historical Society and sponsored by a number of Boston-area organizations.

FOR THE FULL LIST OF PANEL DISCUSSIONS AND SPONSORS OR TO REGISTER, VISIT masshist.org/confronting-racial-injustice.