

19TH ANNUAL
Transactional Clinical Conference

Pivots into Practice

Learning, Doing and Innovating in the Pandemic's Wake

The global pandemic and its aftermath created challenges for transactional lawyers, notably those working in underinvested and under-resourced communities particularly black, brown and immigrant communities. Challenge creates opportunity and clears the way for innovation. We saw that innovation in clinical pedagogy and in transactional spaces. Additionally, transactional practitioners pivoted in representation strategies, practices and targets.

Join clinical colleagues from across the country as we gather to develop and discuss innovative tactics to prepare future lawyers and help businesses, nonprofits and community organizations succeed.
